

Course Information
Course Code	GE415	* Credit Hours	32	* Credits	2
* Course Name	Modern German Literature
(Course Type)	Mandatory
Audience	Fourth-grade German undergraduates
(Language of Instruction)	German
* School	School of Foreign Languages
Prerequisite	Introduction to German Literature Selected Reading of German Literature
Instructor	(Course Webpage)
* Description
* Description	As a literature-related course for the seniors, it uses classics or excerpts representative of particular literature trends in German-speaking countries to increase fun in reading and to instill in students background knowledge about Germany and its culture. The teaching materials, i. e., excerpts from modern German novels, poetry, essays and drama excerpts, are arranged in time sequence and introduced together with literary terms. Meanwhile, the teachers must be conscious of the students' capabilities about reading, listening, speaking, writing and translating. The curriculum should be changed into a comprehensive appreciation of the literature, but also will improve the language skills of the students. The goal is to develop students' interests in this field by making creative use of the materials, thus preparing students for independent-study of the German literature.

course syllabus

* (Learning Outcomes)	1		A5. 3. 1
	2			A5. 3. 1
	3		A5. 3. 1
	4		A5. 3. 1
	5.		C5

Orientation

2

/

2

*

(Class Schedule & Requirements)

9787020106042

More

Notes

1 *

2 300-500